

February 2012 Library News

On Wednesday, January 4, there was an article in the Springfield Republican announcing a Holyoke quest. This quest is one of twelve that are taking place in Massachusetts. The quest was developed to encourage exploration of unique places across the state. The Holyoke quest takes you around the streets of Holyoke focusing on the city's central canal system, the historic Opera house, mill buildings and the Children's Museum. Quest booklets for the entire state can be picked up in the Trustees' Holyoke office at 193 High Street between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on weekdays, or at other times by special request. For more information, call 413-532-1631 ext. 10, or visit <http://www.thetrustees.org/things-to-do/special-events/questdetective/> .

Rachael Kwade, a former student, donated several copies of books from the Bluford High series. These books were catalogued and are ready to check out! Our students love these books! Thank you Rachael!
