It is our intent to provide instructional practice that teaches the whole child, focusing on all domains of development—cognitive, physical, social, and emotional. We recognize parents as children’s first teachers and strive to make families active partners in the school -based education of their children. We honor the rich diversity that is Holyoke’s history and design instruction that is respectful of individual differences and capabilities.

Yoga classes are conducted by an Occupational Therapist in all classrooms on a weekly basis. These classes help students with attention, relaxation and sensory/motor development.
